

SMOKE DRIFTS TO AREA FROM FOREST FIRES

Kentucky Blazes Blamed For Spreading Pall, Burning Odor

STATE OFFICIALS ASSURE RESIDENTS NO FIRE HERE

Smoke that drifted over almost all the Pottstown area yesterday—and even caused eyes to water in some spots—was attributed last night to huge forest fires raging in Kentucky.

Throughout the morning and early afternoon, The Mercury received a barrage of telephone calls from housewives living anywhere from St. Peters on the south to Ringing Hill and Amityville on the north.

All of them asked the same question: Was there a forest fire somewhere close by them? They had read of the tinder-dry woodlands caused by the drought and were afraid it might sweep onto their homes.

"No" was the answer from the State Department of Forest and Waters district office in Norristown, and from fire companies serving all rural sections near Pottstown.

A spokesman for the State office, which is headquarters for its reports were that the smoke was drifting on a south wind from Kentucky.

THE DEPARTMENT HAS 110 fire wardens on duty during this crisis, each with a standby crew ranging from 20 to 40 men. In the Pottstown area, there also is a lookout tower in Hopewell.

Checking with the department's opinion was the fact that most callers reported the smoke seemed

Photographer Plans To Show His Color Slides in Reading

A Pottstown amateur photographer will display lifelike color slides Tuesday night to the Reading Camera club for his first formal exhibit.

George S. Haas, 42 East Second street, a supervisor at Pottstown Rapid Transit company, has been snapping pictures as a hobby since 1920, when he was 19 years old.

His work will be on display at 8 o'clock at the camera club's headquarters, 519 Penn street, Reading. He will show colored slides of Longwood Gardens, Wilmington, Del.; Niagara Falls at night; and Christmas lighting displays.

Most of his shots were taken while he was on vacations, Haas said. "Sometimes it takes two vacations to get good shots of the subjects," he remarked, "because the only way to estimate accurately the strength of lighting for colored pictures is through trial and error."

THE SHOTS OF Niagara Falls were taken over two vacation periods, Haas said. "The first time I went there, I took some night

Bicentennial Queen Leaves Hospital

Bicentennial Queen Marty Lou Smale was discharged from Memorial hospital yesterday after recovering from an emergency appendectomy.

Miss Smale, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Smale, 428 West street, was admitted to the hospital Oct. 24 when she complained of a pain in her side.

Dr. C. F. Sarni, Pottstown physician, performed an emergency operation on the bicentennial queen the same day she was admitted to the hospital.

Too Cute to Shoot

Six-year-old Peggy Veach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony L. Veach, 31 Maplewood drive, shows her love for animals by the way she hugs her pet rabbit. Her sentiment drove her to write the above letter to The Mercury when she heard small game season was postponed in Pennsylvania. The girl's mother looks on with approval.

State Ban on Hunting Is Just Fine For Little Girl Who Likes 'Bunnies'

A little girl with a problem decided to write a letter to The Mercury yesterday.

Here's what the short pencilled note had to say: "MY MOMMY TOLD ME THE BIG MEN CAN'T SHOOT BUNNIES. I'M GLAD."—It was signed, Peggy.

After a little sleuthing, the letter was traced to little 6-year-old Peggy Veach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony L. Veach, 31 Maplewood drive.

Once confronted by the girl, it was easy to find out the motive for the short note. Peggy was a little girl who loved animals very much and was particularly partial to rabbits.

When she heard that hunting season was postponed indefinitely because of the danger of forest fires due to excessive dryness during the past month, Peggy was a happy girl.

TO HER it meant that all the "little bunnies would be able to go on playing in the woods without worrying about bad men who wanted to shoot them."

There are thousands of hunters in the Pottstown area who probably never regarded themselves as "bad men," but it's a safe bet if they read this story about Peggy, that when small game season does open there will be few cringing consciences when their owners point shotguns at "bunnies."

Memorial Hospital Donations Valued at $874, Tally Shows

Canned and other food items valued at $874.99 were given to Memorial hospital by Pottstown area school children on Donation Day, Oct. 9. Mrs. J. Harold Yocum, co-chairman of the project and member of the hospital auxiliary, announced yesterday.

Upon completion of the tally, which took three weeks, Mrs. Yocum reported 4,539 cans of food and 586 boxes of gelatin, deserts and puddings were given to the hospital.

She said that canned corn was by far the most popular gift presented by the school children, with 359 cans collected. The assortment of foods also included a child's school lunch, an apple in one little bag, a piece of a candy bar and a package of cupcakes.

This year's Donation Day was regarded as more successful than

North Coventry, Upper Pottsgrove Pupils Enjoy Hallowe'en Parties in Their Schools

Children in two Pottstown area elementary schools came to class in colorful Hallowe'en costumes yesterday to participate in afternoon programs of grand marches, parties and presentation of prizes for originality of dress.

The North Coventry and Upper Pottsgrove elementary school reported 315 and 155 pupils respectively who took part in the Hallowe'en celebration to which mothers were invited as guests.

Cowboys, Indians, pirates and Upper Pottsgrove elementary ladies in Colonial dress invaded school pupils had the opportunity to show off their best Hallowe'en finery to each other yesterday.

Children in individual classes participated in a Hallowe'en celebration, visited one another as part of the diversely attired First grand march which inaugurated the afternoon's celebration of costume judging, parties and refreshments.

The children were served large helpings of homemade pumpkin pie baked by the mothers, which was washed down with more than an ample supply of cider. Supplementing these were cakes, cookies,

HOSPITAL SETS ITS CEREMONY FOR BUILDINGS

Mid-December Is Time For Ground-Breaking at Pottstown Hospital

PLANNING CULMINATED WITH OKAY OF PROJECT

By BARRY R. NEMCOFF (Mercury Staff Writer)

Ground-breaking for the new wing and buildings at Pottstown hospital has been set for sometime near mid-December, A. C. Seawell, hospital administrator, announced yesterday.

This information came as culmination of several years of planning which was concluded when final drawings for the project were approved by members of the hospital's board of trustees Thursday night.

Edward L. Gruber, chairman of the building committee, said advertising for bids will start Nov. 10 and continue for 30 days with the provision that a contractor will be able to ask for an additional week to prepare his estimate.

The exact date of the ground-breaking will hinge on how soon bids for the project are returned.

Plans for the ceremony have been left in the hands of the committee which includes Gruber, Samuel H. Keiser, Ernest H. Struckmann, and D. K. Bullens.

MEMBERS of the committee made it a specific point to emphasize the desirability of having local builders submit their estimates on the construction of the buildings.

Seawell reported that the plans have also received the "unofficial OK" from the US Public Health service, with the official approval expected sometime next week.

The $2,000,000 project was made possible two years ago when private subscriptions from individuals and residents of the Pottstown area netted approximately $1,200,000, to which an added contribution of $820,900 from the Federal government was approved under a law providing aid for hospital construction.

The plans prepared by Vincent G. Kline, Philadelphia architect, call for the addition of three modern masonry and steel structures to the present

Stop Lights, Crackdown on Speeding Asked to Stop West High Street Crashes

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

Erection of stop lights, enforcement of the speed limit and displays of death-car wreckage to teen-age Pottstown students.

These were among the ways suggested by businessmen and residents along West High street to cut down the continuing toll in fatal crashes on that "racetrack."

All persons contacted expressed deep concern over the accident problem on all of the highway, from Manatwamy street westward to Douglassville.

On the west end of the stretch, an 18-year-old youth was killed the past Tuesday when the small truck in which he was a passenger rammed the rear end of a tractor trailer stopped along the highway.

Late Thursday night, a 48-year-old Doehrer-Jarvis corporation worker was killed when his car collided head-on with a car carrying three young people. This accident happened in the borough in the heart of the "murderous mile."

G. E. CLOUSE, 799 North Franklin street, who's operated a coal business near the accident site since 1935, said of this latest fatal crash:

"I think those two cars should be taken out to the Senior and Junior High schools and then have the students called into the auditorium and told, 'Here's a good example of what can happen.'"

Clouse said he believed "excessive speed" was the main reason for the West High street accident toll.

"I think this highway should be patrolled 24 hours a day—seven days a week—for one solid year."

THE SPEED LIMIT on West High street is, as the result of an ordinance passed two years ago, 35 miles per hour.

Clouse also said he believed the bright lights along parts of West High street might be a contributory cause of night crashes. He suggested a survey by Westinghouse or General Electric engineers.

A DIFFERENT approach was that of Harry E. Yergey, Empire Hook and Ladder company driver. (Continued on Last Page)

THE three injured victims of Thursday night's fatal West High street accident were reported in "satisfactory" condition in Pottstown hospital last night.

But Pottstown police still were unable to question the trio.

Patrolman William A. Mars and Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway reported them "too groggy to get anything out of."

A manslaughter charge, which will be placed against William Embody, 19, of 325 North Manatwamy street, was delayed because police could not complete questioning.

Killed in the two-car accident was Theodore R. Masser, 48, Douglassville. (Continued on Page Twelve)

Groff Remains Critical

Walter Groff, former driver for the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company, remained in "critical" condition at Memorial hospital early this morning.

Groff was taken to the hospital from his 365 North Evans street home Thursday afternoon in a Good Will ambulance after he suffered a stroke.

Rural Mailboxes Damaged In Sanatoga; Police Press Investigation

POSTMASTER WARNS US GOVERNMENT COULD ACT

Two outbreaks of youthful vandalism—which went well beyond what is accepted as normal Hallowe'en mischief—were reported yesterday in the Pottstown area.

In the borough, six Queen street householders in a row had telephone, television and radio wires cut, apparently with wire clippers and apparently by big "boys."

In Sanatoga, nearly a score of rural mailboxes have been damaged—in a few cases, the posts were smashed completely. Mail boxes are Federal property. Damaging them is a Federal offense.

Borough police worked on the Queen street vandalism; and Lower Pottsgrove Police Chief Harry G. Chrusch on the Sanatoga vandalism throughout the day. Federal postal inspectors also are being notified.

The Queen street homes are between South Price and South Rohland streets. At one end of the group is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goettman, 1121 Queen street; at the other, the home of Henry L. Herbine, 1135 Queen street.

Mrs. Goettman reported that the "Hallowe'eners" cut telephone, radio and television wires at their home. At most homes in the group, telephone wires were not cut.

NOT ONLY did the youths cut the wires, but they cut them in several places and even took away sections of wire, to make repair work that much more difficult and expensive.

She said, "They were cut clean."

Adlai Calls Rival's Promise to Go To Korea Pledge Without Program

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson finished his Eastern campaigning before a wildly cheering Brooklyn crowd tonight with a blistering attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's pledge to go to Korea. He called it a promise without a program.

The Democratic presidential nominee spoke in the Brooklyn Academy of Music—the traditional Democratic Friday-before-election sounding board.

Stevenson was hailed in both Republican and heavily Democratic Brooklyn by lanes of cheering people. Red flares and bands on street corners marked his route.

The Governor, referring to the Republican candidate's promise to go to Korea in an effort to end the Korean War, said the General had retreated even on the original promise.

He declared the General now was talking about going to Korea to "improve our position" rather than ending the war.

THE ORIGINAL PROMISE, Stevenson said, was an attempt to convince the American people there was an easy way out.

Stevenson spoke soon after his arrival by plane from Illinois where he had interrupted his campaigning to deal with rebellious prison inmates.

He said the opposition's record was one of negation.

Then he attacked Eisenhower directly as a conservative in the Mid-West and a liberal in the East.

But the Governor devoted most of his speech to rapping Eisenhower on what he called the General's shift on foreign policy from international co-operation to the old guard line.

He said Eisenhower had changed his position on aid to Europe and had shown disdain for the nation's Korean allies by saying "let Asians fight Asians."

This was the voice of isolationism, Stevenson said, declaring the General had "changed his tune" to win isolationist support.

BLASTING EISENHOWER also on the domestic front, Stevenson noted in his Queens and Brooklyn tour that it was Halloween, and said the General was raising "spooks and bogey men" with his stories about the Democratic record.

The General was riding a broomstick, he said.

Stevenson said that he, himself, would rather lose the election than resort to gibberish.

Stevenson's Brooklyn speech was the windup of a week of intensive New York campaigning by both the Illinois governor and his opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Stevenson spoke in an overflowed crowd at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night and a similar turnout greeted Eisenhower there last night.

The Democratic nominee made his final bid for New York's big, important bloc of 45 electoral votes in Brooklyn, most heavily Democratic borough in the city.

He was to leave later tonight by train for Ohio and the final weekend of the 1952 campaign.

Earlier, Sen. Wayne Morse, the Oregon Republican who first supported and then rejected the Eisenhower candidacy, made his New York debut as a Stevenson booster.

UN Armistice Terms Pressed by Delegates

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—Four delegates from Allied countries with troops in Korea told the Communists in plain words today there will be no armistice in Korea based on forced repatriation of prisoners. They appealed to the Reds to accept an armistice on UN terms.

"We are not suing for peace," said Australia's Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey in the UN political committee.

Seven hostage guards, without food for nearly five days, staggered from the cell house, one or two at a time.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, had broken off his campaign tour of the east for a dramatic night flight to Illinois.

"IT WAS my personal decision," Stevenson said, to make the ultimatum. Stevenson decided to break off his campaigning in the final week before the election, he said, because the uprising "was my responsibility."

One convict was shot but not seriously wounded.

Prison Lt. Loren Stewart, 55, one of the hostages, reported he had to fight his way to freedom and that several of the insurgent convicts carried him, struggling, to an upper cell tier. Stewart, fearing they were bent on hurling him to a concrete ramp 50 feet below, said he slugged one of the inmates with a shoe and made his way to freedom.

Previous efforts by other officials, including Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, to negotiate a settlement had failed.

When order had been restored, Dixon said the rebellion had been ended with the State under no obligation to negotiate with the convicts.

Stevenson left for New York immediately after the convicts had surrendered. He drove to Scott Air Force base, Ill., near St. Louis, where his plane took off for La Guardia field, New York, at 2:10 p. m. (Pottstown time).

Word spread quickly among convicts in the besieged east cell block that Stevenson had arrived at the prison at 5 a. m. and was in conference with other officials.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Adm. William F. Pechter, chief of Naval operations; Gen. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff; Sec. of Defense Robert Lovett, and Sec. of the Army, Frank Pace.

"How far can a man go in impugning the character and patriotism of his former associates?" Truman asked.

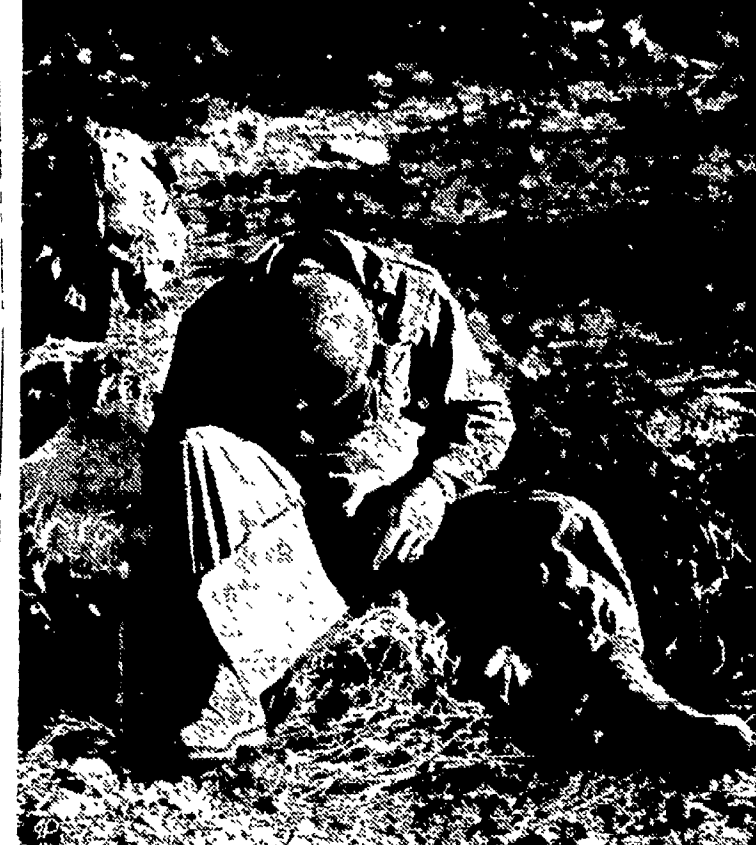

Truman said that the Republicans are conducting "one of the most expensive campaigns in history" and that it resembles a "soap-selling drive."

And, he said, Eisenhower is peddling a "new patent medicine" by trying to promise he can bring the troops home sooner than anyone else.

The Cincinnati address capped a day of campaigning in Ohio for Democratic presidential nominee Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, while Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft campaigned in the other end of his home State for Eisenhower.

Bolivia Government Nationalizes Big 3 Tin Producing Firms

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 31 (AP)—The revolutionary Government nationalized the big three tin producing companies of Bolivia today under a decree implying there may be no payment for stockholders.

President Victor Paz Estenssoro the tin miners' idol, signed the decree taking over the properties of the Patino, Hochschild and Aramayo companies in a ceremony before 30,000 cheering miners at Catavi, one of Patino's biggest holdings.

A third of the shares of these companies, which have accounted for about 75 percent of Bolivia's tin exports, are estimated to be in the hands of United States investors.

Tin is Bolivia's major export running as much as 30,000 tons a year. Much of it ordinarily goes to the United States, but a price wrangle and uncertainty over prospects of nationalization have slashed shipments there in recent months. The United States agreed in September, however, to buy between 6000 and 7000 tons stockpiled at Chilean and Peruvian ports at $1.17 1/2 cents a pound. Bolivia had sought $1.30 a pound in long negotiations.

SHE PRODUCES about 15 percent of the world's tin, ranking third behind Malaysia and Indonesia. About 70 percent of the Bolivian Government's total revenue has come from export duties on tin and other metals.

SNYDER LINKED TO TAX SCANDAL BY REPUBLICAN

Movie Tax Case Papers May Involve Others; Charges Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—A Republican Congressman said today Revenue bureau documents will involve Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and other prominent Democrats in "highly suspicious activities" linked to a multi-million-dollar movie industry tax case.

His charges brought heated denials and counter-blows against what was called a political "last minute dirty deal."

The Congressman, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, accused the Truman Administration of an attempted "gross coverup" of the documents.

Byrnes said Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap's role in the case disqualifies Dunlap from his job and "strongly indicates the much heralded cleanup of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is a sham and deceit of the American people."

BYRNES IS a member of a House ways and means subcommittee which has spotlighted a series of Revenue bureau scandals.

Snyder and Dunlap, in Seattle for ceremonies installing new tax officials, sharply denied the accusations and Snyder wired Chairman King (D-Calif.) of the subcommittee calling on him to stop what he called politically-inspired attacks.

His telegram, made public by the Treasury here, said: "I am shocked at the politically inspired, false charges and innuendoes that have issued from members of your subcommittee in the last 24 hours."

"I demand that you personally, in your responsibility as chairman of the subcommittee take action immediately to correct these completely unfounded and irresponsible election eve statements."

Lewis, president of the United Mine workers union, was reported insisting on a $1.90 daily pay boost being translated into a hard coal hourly wage raise.

Chinese Red troops still menaced Allied control of Triangle Hill area.

SEOUL, Saturday, Nov. 1 (AP)—The bitter battle of Triangle Hill on the Korean central front slackened Friday night but Chinese Red troops still menaced Allied control of the whole sector.

The Chinese clung to the crest after the bloodiest day since fighting began 19 days ago.

Allied infantrymen withdrew at dusk from the 2000-foot height after nearly 24 hours of swaying battle in which three South Korean companies stayed and died, preventing a Red breakthrough.

Other Allied troops held fast to Pinpoint Hill, the pinnacle of Snipers Ridge. Two miles to the northeast the Chinese were massing in trenches and tunnels close by.

'Siamese Twin Opponents' of Ike Charges With Flim-Flamming Him

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared tonight that President Truman and to violent condemnation.

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson — he labeled them "my Siamese twin opponents" — have assailed him their strange and unhappy behavior. "The greatest collection of flim-flamming accusations made in any campaign."

Invading the home state of Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, Eisenhower said in an address prepared for delivery (10 p. m., Pottstown time) at Chicago stadium:

"At first glance, you might find hard to understand the furious assaults of my Siamese twin opponents. After all, four years ago, I was besieged publicly and privately by important members of the Administration party to accept the nomination for the presidency on their ticket."

"In these past four years, I have seen the American people's opinion completely as to give real cause for their shift from ardent cooing night that President Truman and to violent condemnation."

On his way into downtown Chicago, where he got a warm welcome from thousands who banked the streets in the Loop area, Eisenhower stopped for a brief speech at suburban Cicero.

He declared there that the Democrats are saying that America's fiscal policy is dictated by the Kremlin. He called that "pure bunk."

They came from Pike's peak against Triangle. One battalion slipped and hit Jane Russell hill, the peak you can see over on the right. There was a heavy fire-fight there for hours and at times there was hand grenade fighting on both hills.

WHY I'M VOTING FOR IKE
WILLIAM J. MURPHY
St. Petersburg, Florida
"I am a retired master mechanic for a railroad. I think Eisenhower will make a good president because he is better acquainted with international affairs than his opponent. He has a real knowledge and understanding of world conditions and is experienced in dealing with the heads of State of the free world. He will get us the cooperation of free people and also will be able to handle our enemies. There is no substitute for such experience. He's got a mind of his own and I have good reason to believe that he will rid Washington of all the evils we have been reading about in the papers."

It is only 1 p. m. now, but Galer speaks as if the action were a year old.

"It began at 11:50 with a two-platoon contact on Triangle. In a few moments it was two battalions."

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARY JANE (GEMPERLING) WICKERSHAM, 78, of 451 Chestnut Street, widow of Edwin Wickersham, died at Pottstown hospital yesterday afternoon. She had been in failing health for the past six weeks and a patient at the hospital for the past 12 days. Born in Hagerstown, Md., she was a daughter of the late Frank and Annie (Sprecker) Gemperling. She had lived in Pottstown for the past 56 years.

Mrs. Wickersham was a member of the Trinity Reformed church. Surviving her are one son, Donald Bechtel, 260 King street; two brothers, Frank Gemperling, 507 Farmington avenue, and William Gemperling, 609 Willow street; one sister, Mrs. Katie Seasholtz, 378 North Evans street; one grandchild and one great grandchild. Services will be conducted from a 404 High street funeral home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Officiating will be the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. Interment will be Edgewood cemetery.

SAMUEL S. HARTZELL, 83, husband of the late Sallie (Frey) Hartzell, died yesterday morning at Kneule's hotel, PENNSBURG, where he had lived for the past 10 years.

Born in Anise, Pa., he was a son of the late David and Mary (Snyder) Hartzell. Mr. Hartzell was a retired baker, having operated his own bakery in Green Lane for 33 years. Prior to that he was engaged in the battery business for 10 years, also in Green Lane.

He was a member of Frieden's Union church of Summerville. Surviving him are one daughter, Mrs. Clifford Kille; two sons, Oliver and John Hartzell; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Elsie Pritchard; a sister, Mrs. Mary Yost, and six grandchildren.

Services will be held from Frieden's Union church, Summerville, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Robert Haas, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be made in the adjoining cemetery.

The body of MRS. FRANCOISE COOK, 35-year-old wife of Fredrick Alleton Cook, who recently became editor and publisher of The Schwenksville Item, was found in the bathtub of their NEW YORK CITY apartment.

Manhattan police said there were razor blade slashes on the left wrist and elbow. The nude body was found Thursday afternoon by an employee of the apartment building.

The employee had been called after the husband first telephoned home and got no answer, then tried vainly to get into the locked apartment. Her body was taken to Bellevue morgue for an autopsy. Cook bought the Item, a 75-year-old weekly, from Stanley H. Bardman three weeks ago. Bardman is continuing with the Item as associate editor.

Cook was New York correspondent for The London Evening Standard. He had resigned this post and planned to move to the Schwenksville section by Dec. 1. Meanwhile, he was living in Manhattan.

He told police his wife apparently was in good spirits and good health.

PAUL R. WADE, 52, POTTSTOWN RD 3, died in the Veterans hospital, Lorain, Ohio, late Wednesday after a long illness.

A retired Army captain with 27 years' service, he had been a patient in Valley Forge Army hospital before going to the one in Ohio. Death followed a serious lung operation.

Mr. Wade had served during World War II as a captain in the Military Police. Over the years, he served from Hawaii to Germany. When on leave, he lived at the home of a brother, H. Russell Wade, Pottstown RD 3, and it was to his home he moved following his retirement three years ago.

He was a member of Pottstown Lodge 369, Loyal Order of Moose; Gilbertville Fire company and a Masonic lodge in Hawaii.

Surviving are his stepmother,

Mrs. Anna Wade, Pottstown RD 3; four brothers, Ephraim Wade and Lafayette Wade, Birdsboro; Ellis B. Wade, Pottstown RD 2, and H. Russell; two sisters, Helen, wife of Eric Favinger, Pottstown RD 3, and Alice, wife of Walter C. Leyrer, 871 Queen street, and a step-sister, Margaret, wife of Edward Wentzel, 36 King street.

He was a son of the late Albert B. and Annie (Bollinger) Wade. Services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. in Lorain, where interment will be made.

JONAH MCAFEE MILLER, husband of the late Emma (Peck) Miller died in Pottstown hospital yesterday morning at 3 o'clock after being admitted Thursday afternoon. He was 62.

He had been ill since August. For the past six years he has been living with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Bowen, POTTSTOWN RD 3. Since he became ill in August, he had been staying with his son, Jonah Miller Jr., 1300 River road, South Pottstown.

The son of William and Emma Miller, Mr. Miller had been a farmer in the Chester Springs vicinity most of his life.

Surviving are five daughters: Lillian, wife of Watson Bowen; Jessie, wife of George Sloyer, Coatesville; Kathryn, wife of Henry Bramble, Pottstown Landing; Helen, wife of Frederick Boronski, Pottstown RD 3; and Fayette, wife of Lester Pursel, Pottstown RD 3; two sons: Jonah Jr., and Russell, Monocacy RD 1, and 11 grandchildren.

Also four brothers: Frank L., Chester Springs RD 1; Morris, Lancaster; Clarence, Nantmeal, Glen Moore RD; Leroy, Chester Springs; and 11 grandchildren. Services will be held Monday from a Parkerford funeral home at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in St. Matthew's Reformed church cemetery, Chester Springs.

Services for MATILDA M. (RUSCH) PROSTOVICH, 1211 CENTER AVENUE, widow of Rufus J. Prostovich, were held from her home yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

Solemn high requiem mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock in St. Aloysius' Catholic church. The Rev. William M. Begley, rector, was celebrant, and the Rev. Michael L. Walsh and the Rev. George P. Hiller, assistant rectors, were deacon and sub-deacon respectively.

Interment was made in St. Aloysius New cemetery, with the Rev. Begley in charge of graveside rites. Bearers were John Rusch, Joseph Rusch, Joseph Michal, Michael Etzel, Clement Koch and Michael Kneis.

Services for ALLEN BURGER, husband of the late Caroline (Deshaunt) Burger, MERVINE AND JUNIPER STREETS, UPPER POTTSGROVE TOWNSHIP, were held from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Rev. Clarence Didden, pastor of the Non-Sectarian church of Limerick, officiated. Interment was made in the Hill church cemetery.

Bearers were William M. Vanderslice, Robert Burger, Nicholas Petro and Herbert Houck.

Services for WILLIAM H. CURTIS, DOUGLASSVILLE RD 2, Pottstown automobile dealer, will be held tomorrow night and Monday morning from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street, and also on Monday morning at St. Aloysius Catholic church.

At 7 o'clock tomorrow night Pottstown Lodge 814, BPOE, will conduct services and at 8 o'clock further services will be conducted by Father Bally Council 1192, Knights of Columbus.

Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock, services will be conducted at the funeral home and at 10 o'clock a requiem high mass will be sung at St. Aloysius Catholic church. Interment will be made in Gate of Heaven cemetery, Hanover, New Jersey.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Taft Hasn't Any Real Doubt on GOP Win

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31 (AP)—Home in Ohio after a 22-state campaign tour on behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Senator Robert A. Taft told newsmen today "I haven't any real doubt" about Eisenhower winning Tuesday's presidential election.

"He might win by a large vote," Taft added.

The Cincinnati Republican, who lost the GOP presidential nomination to Eisenhower, said he felt President Truman's campaigning hasn't helped Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

"President Truman may have put a little more lift in the campaign, but I think he alienated more votes than he has acquired," Taft said.

The senator also said he didn't think Senator Wayne Morse (R. Ore.) "will have any effect in Michigan and Ohio" in advocating election of the Democratic presidential nominee. "In fact," Taft added, "Morse will not affect the result in Oregon or anywhere else. The only direct effect is that we have to get another senator for the Republicans."

State Realtors Group Against Bond Amendment

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Realtors association, representing more than 2300 real estate brokers of the State, today came out against the proposed authority bond amendment which appears on the Nov. 4 ballot.

The proposal would allow the State to retire 215 million dollars worth of General State authority and Highway and Bridge authority bonds and replace them with State bonds.

Gladstone A. Carmalt of Brookville, president of the association, said in a statement, "We feel that the passage of this amendment will not mean a savings to taxpayers but in all probability additional costs."

Church Members, Visitors Hear Talk on Red China Life

Account of 'Bamboo Curtain' World Told by First Brethren Missionary

First Brethren church members and visitors heard an eye-witness account of life behind the "bamboo curtain" of Red China last night.

The Rev. J. Calvin Bright, Brethren church missionary recently deported from western China by its new Communist Government, described to his listeners the conditions existing there now under the Red regime.

Arrested by the Communists in September, 1950, the Rev. Bright was kept under surveillance four months and then thrown into prison by the Chinese government.

He had been in prison another four months before American and Chinese friends arranged his release.

In his talk last night the Rev. Bright did not describe his work in China in detail nor did he identify those who aided him.

"It is very hard for free Americans to realize how a collective state operates," he explained. "As I was considered an enemy of the new Communist Government, those who helped me and even people with whom I was merely acquainted, were looked upon with suspicion."

"That is the doctrine of 'collective guilt' which the Red Government has set forth, and they enforce their doctrine with collective massacres."

THE REV. BRIGHT revealed that the Communist Government at Peiping maintains a newspaper clipping service in this country by which they are able to gather reports on what refugees from China do and say.

He said that if he mentioned the names of his friends still in China the Government there would soon hear about it. Reprisals against them would be likely to follow, he added.

The Brethren missionary told how he was sentenced to deportation by a Chinese Communist military tribunal after Chinese friends interceded for him to avoid a more serious verdict.

When the sentence had been pronounced, the Rev. Bright was escorted by guards to Canton, a city on the "bamboo curtain" boundary. Deported with him were a Mennonite, an Episcopalian and two Catholic missionaries.

The way to Canton and freedom lay in rugged country that was negotiated by jeep, bus and train, the Rev. Bright said.

HIS SHORT STAY in the British Crown colony of Hong Kong, to which he went from Canton, was "as different from Communist China as the United States is from Russia," the returned missionary declared.

He told of his three weeks stay

Prayer for the Week

By DR. ALFRED P. HAAKE

Mayor of Park Ridge, Ill.

'Tis not for power, or wealth, or fame,

I pray Thee gracious Lord, But help me use the gifts Thou gave

In kindly thought and deed and word,

So when at last my time has come

To seek eternal rest, My soul may take as parting gift

The love of those who knew me best.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verse is found in the Gospel.

ST. JOHN 15:7. "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

This is my favorite passage because it answers the heart-hunger of mankind for completeness by promising the Presence and the resources of God's omnipotence. It inspires hope for me in my human weakness and frailty. Moreover, it sets forth a challenging relationship between God and the individual. Here I learn that if I desire God's blessings and resources then I must fulfill certain requirements and conditions. God's promise is conditional upon my willingness to get into the proper environment and spirit to receive and use His blessings. This Divine-human relationship which Jesus described when He said, "I am the vine, ye are the branches," is a stimulus to me to measure up to my part of the contract. It counteracts the laxity and laziness within me when I am tempted to shirk spiritual disciplines. I have tested the promise again and again through the years and I always find that when I do my part God fulfills His promises.

Aims, Meaning Behind Girl Scout Week Summed-Up In Prize Winning Essays

Girl Scout Week, closing today with its seventh day of service, has been a full week. Most exciting of all was the essay contest.

From troops all over the Pottstown area came essays on why the members were glad to be associated with the 40-year-old organization. The essay judged best within its troop unit was sent to the Council who picked those which would represent Pottstown girls.

December Date Set By Ladies' Auxiliary For Annual Affair

The date was set for the annual Christmas banquet at Thursday night's meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Philadelphia Fire company. It will be held Dec. 9 at the West End Fire house.

A Halloween social highlighted the evening. Several announcements and reports were made during the business meeting. The auxiliary will have a booth at the Navy Mother's bazaar, Dec. 5. Florence Yergy will take care of any donations for the bazaar. A donation was made to the United Fund.

Hostesses for the meeting were Louise Carr and Alice Stoner. Refreshments were served by Melaine Hummel, Erma Egolf and Alvina Hampton.

Committees were appointed for the next meeting to be held Nov. 20. Florence Egolf and Katie Whitby are to be the hostesses. Refreshment committee is Dorothy Egolf, Gladys Fegley, Ruth Ulrich and Anna Austin.

The guessing jar was won by Margaret Yeager, pig-in-the-box by Florence Egolf and the special prize was won by Anna Austin.

Women to Serve, Swim, Meet Monday in YMCA

Monday's social calendar will be a full one for members of the YMCA auxiliary.

At 6 p. m. women interested in serving for the Y victory dinner, given for workers in the membership drive, will gather in the YMCA. Mrs. Leonard Bernhardt, president, expects the first plates to start their rounds at 6:30 p. m.

A business meeting of the women will follow the dinner in the Y auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

Then the women will don their own suits and bathing hats for a swim in the pool at 9:30 p. m.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. William Manship and Mrs. Donald Floyd.

James Zimmerman's Tennessee Bride Leaves Today To Join Him In Florence

MRS. JAMES T. ZIMMERMAN

From Nashville to Pottstown to Florence, Italy is quite a jump.

But Mrs. James T. Zimmerman having come all the way to Pottstown, from Nashville, Tenn., isn't a bit worried about the rest of the journey still ahead of her.

A pert brown-haired girl, she was in the midst of repacking last night for her departure today. After her marriage this past Spring to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zimmerman, 963 Terrace lane, she had been living with her family in her native Tennessee until she got a chance to join her husband.

Sgt. Zimmerman has been stationed in Italy with the USAF since a few months after their marriage. He will serve there for three years.

The whole Zimmerman and Tennessee Tidwell clans gathered last night in the Zimmerman home to give Sara Zimmerman last minute messages for "Jim." She sat calmly amidst all the last minute bustling about. She had done all her worrying the last few weeks and was "just taking it easy now."

Odd Fellows, Lady Wittenmyer Rebekah Lodge to Hold Joint Hallowe'en Dance

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Lady Wittenmyer Rebekah lodge will join forces tonight at 8:30 p. m. for a Hallowe'en square dance in Odd Fellows hall.

William Morrell will call for the square dancing; but there will be modern dancing as well. Costumes are optional.

The committee for the dance includes: Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sassaman, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Swartwood, Mr. and Mrs. William Richards, Elita Bush, Mary Shaner, Ann Sweetwood, Martha Platt, Mr. and Mrs. George Rittenhouse, John Knauer, Christopher Hollenbach, Donald Shaffer and Lillian Rubright.

This same committee is in charge of all the monthly dances held by the two lodges. The first of these dances was held three years ago. Since then a dance has been held on the first Saturday of each month, and the decorations are in keeping with the season of the year.

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

A two-level second floor is a feature of this home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baczor at 1107 Cherry street (near Price street). There are seven steps from the first floor to the first level, on which there are two bedrooms and a bath. The front one of these bedrooms is over the garage. Seven more steps bring you to the king-sized bedroom behind those two dormer bedrooms. The house was built four years ago. The brickwork is vari-shaded. Downstairs are a living room which is 13 by 24 feet, occupying the entire front of the house, and a dining room and kitchen. There's a side entrance to the house on the left. The Baczors have painted the walls of two bedrooms, blue in one, green in the other, and plan to paint others walls now papered. Out front are Mrs. Baczor with their son, Walter E., a year and a half old. Baczor is a production worker for Spicer Manufacturing division.

If you can't press a heavy piece in just the few minutes needed soon after washing, allow it to dry thoroughly. When ready to iron, sprinkle, roll tight, cover with a clean cloth, wrap in paper, and put briefly into a warm oven. It will dampen evenly by evaporation.

Farmers, With Many Critical Votes, Still Remain Election Question Mark

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—The nation's farmers — either rightly or wrongly credited pulling one of the surprise rabbits out of the political hat that elected President Truman in 1948—are still the campaign question marks.

The question of which way farm-dorm will go this time hinges on the parties' farm platforms that the rural residents want explained more in detail.

About the only way to find out what the farmer is thinking is to pin down one of their national spokesmen who have their hands on the pulse of the rural world.

One such spokesman, Herschel Newsom, master of the National Grange, is doing no predicting or opinion sampling. But, making some cross-country tours and "whistle stops" of his own for the sake of closer integration of the grange, he has picked up a few "pointers."

Newsom said the main thing in the farmer's mind is a more detailed elaboration of just what the parties are proposing for an agriculture program.

THE ONE-TIME Indiana farmer, of course, has an idea of the prevailing political sentiment among the nation's farmers but concedes that it is still hard to tell if the GOP's Adlai Stevenson or the Democrats' General Eisenhower will get the vital farm vote.

Newsom said he has talked to both political candidates and plans to have more conferences with them or their associates. The principal bone of contention, Newsom said, is the failure of the candidates to make a clearer stand on an agriculture program.

The National Grange master said his organization does not intend officially to endorse either candidate but will urge both nominees to back a plan to study and "remedy" the price support program.

The grange, as an organization, has for some time backed a plan to set up a federal farm commission to go over the whole agriculture program and make recommendations for putting the farmer "on his own two feet" without the aid of price supports which originally were set up as emergency measures.

Newsom said it is the grange's contention that the US "has never corrected the basic causes of agriculture's failure" in 1921.

He said the grange, representing some 900,000 farmers in the nation, believes that agriculture "should be running on its own by now" without price support programs as they are today.

THE ONE MAJOR factor in this, Newsom said, "is that America's trade policies, tariffs, immigration restrictions and other programs, are designed to protect industrial investors and laborers from foreign competition and have operated at the farmer's expense."

Backing up his charge, Newsom pointed out that raw products of agriculture come into the US duty-free but once any processing oc-

FARM PRICES SLUMP POSES POLITICAL 'IF'

Experts Calculate Effect
4 Percent Drop Will Have on Election Day

DEMOCRATS RELUCTANT
TO USE 1948 TACTICS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—An official report that farm prices have dropped 44 percent during the past two months raised political questions today.

This was the big one. What effect, if any, will the drop have on the farm vote Tuesday?

In its monthly report on the economic status of farmers, the Agriculture department said the general level of prices received by them in mid-October was 2 percent lower than a month earlier. The level had declined about 24 percent in the previous four week period.

A similar decline in prices before the Presidential election four years ago played a vital role in the outcome of that contest. President Truman won an upset victory over Governor Thomas E. Dewey, largely on the basis of a strong midwestern farm vote.

In the 1948 campaign, Democrats blamed the Republican controlled 80th Congress for the price declines. They said Congress had passed legislation that greatly handicapped Government efforts to support farm prices.

This year no effort is being made by the Democrats to blame the Republicans for the recent setbacks. The legislation they criticized in 1943 has long since been repealed.

REPUBLICANS, on the other hand, have pointed to price declines as evidence that farmers are losing ground under the "fair deal."

The major question is this: will farmers be greatly influenced by the declines and if so how will their votes be affected?

It has been very generally felt up until now that farmers would be influenced less this election by so-called farm issues—such as prices and Federal farm aid programs—than they were in 1948.

Grangemaster Herschel Newsom has ear to the ground.

He said, "Farmers must be protected the same at watch-makers and the like."

Newsom said he has been "much encouraged" with both candidates' reception of "help and suggestions" from farmer organizations.

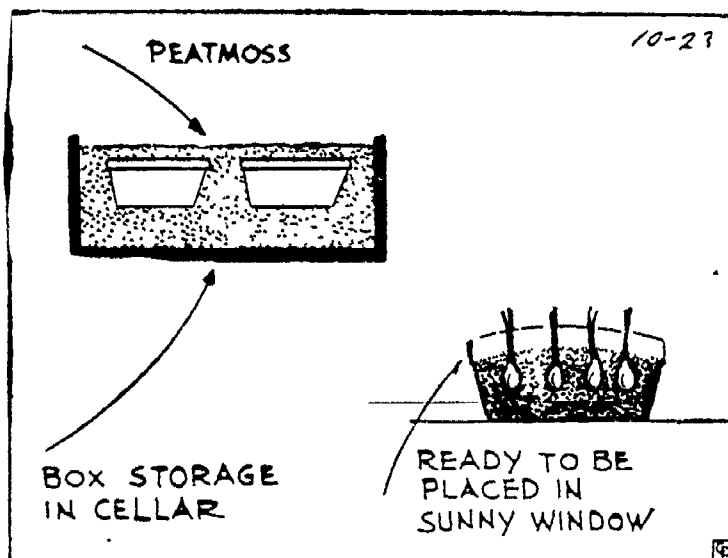

And, too, he said that although he has been "encouraged by what both candidates have said" along the agriculture line, they should perhaps expand their plans to the public.

Newsom said both candidates "recognize that agriculture is suffering without increasing prices."

He concluded that although price supports "are not the answer" to agriculture's problems, they must not be discarded until a new "remedy" is worked out—preferably by a Federal farm commission.

Fertilizer and lime have increased very little in cost compared with other items in farm production. Therefore, James Eakin, Penn State extension agronomist, believes that increased use of lime and fertilizer today is a direct route to more farm income.

Potting Bulbs for Indoor Bloom

When planting bulbs indoors in a box of peatmoss in the cellar, they can be placed in a sunny window. When the blossoms pots should be scrubbed thoroughly, open, move the pots out of the sun.

The blooms will last much longer if they are set in a cool place at night. Water well from the time the top growth appears until the flowers fade.

Select for layers the deep-bodied pullets, carrying good length and width of back, a thick covering of flesh, and having sleek plumage, suggests F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

Separate those that have started to lay, or about to lay, from the more slowly developing birds.

Set in the bulbs so that the tops are barely covered. Do not press the bulbs down hard for that packs the soil beneath and makes it hard for the roots to penetrate the soil. Once the bulbs are potted they should be given a thorough soaking.

The pots of bulbs can be stored in a box of peatmoss in the cellar, as shown in the accompanying graph. The potted bulbs should not be set on a cement floor, for the coldness of it prevents the roots from growing down. The storage box, illustrated should be raised off the floor and the section of the cellar where it is placed should be dark and cool.

Bulbs require at least six weeks, and 10 weeks is better, in dark and cold to secure ample root growth before being brought into a higher temperature. Then, keep the bulbs at 40 to 50 degrees for 10 days to three weeks.

When the bulbs have made several roots, they can be placed in a sunny window. When the blossoms appear, move the pots out of the sun.

Northampton County Grange Wins 1st in State Competition; Bucks 3d

ALLENTOWN, Oct. 31—The Harmony Grange of Northampton county this week won the Pennsylvania Grange award for youth's community service in the annual contest sponsored by the farm organization.

The contest is based on the contribution of youth to the community as members of the Grange and individuals.

Second place awards went to the Hookstown Grange of Beaver county while third place winner was Middletown Grange of Bucks county.

The Couderport chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was picked as the outstanding chapter in the State.

Earlier, at the opening session of the three day annual meeting, the State Grange master—Dr. Beatty H. Dimitt of Indiana—said the American farmer "can maintain his place of leadership under the free enterprise system."

And in his annual report to the more than 1000 Grange members attending the session, Dimitt said "In a country engaged in an un-

Golden Cubs Win, 40-0, To Set New Scoring Mark

By ED TAGGERT

Sifting through the Bridgeport Junior High defense like a squadron of Hallowe'en ghosts, the Pottstown Golden Cubs defied the 13 jinx yesterday afternoon and extended their undefeated string with a 40-0 win.

Head man in the haunt parade as the Cubs rolled to the highest score in the school's history, was stubby Dave Gillis who bolted for five of his team's six touchdowns.

Playing on the Bridgeport High field, the local Junior High won its fifth game of the season and has not tasted defeat in the past 13 games. A win over West Chester at Franklin field next Friday would give the Cubs their second unbeaten campaign in succession.

Gillis, who was bothered by a headache before and during the game, had the Porters reaching for the aspirin bottle before the game was too far gone. Although he transported the ball only four times from scrimmage, on three occasions he scored. His other two TDs came on a 41-yard pass play and a 60-yard punt return.

Irked by a 15-yard penalty before the game even started—for not being ready to play at 3:15—the Cubs used an I-opener to start festivities.

Coach Gene Kauler, a strategist from way back, had his Cubs begin operations with an I formation. The four backs, Jim Gibbons, Gillis, Joe Lipko and Dan Keifrieder lined up in single file behind the center, Wils Bedell.

Starting from their own 20, after Bridgeport kicked into the end zone, Gibbons pitched out to Keifrieder on the first play. Dan swung wide around his right end and traveled 27 yards before being halted. Gillis then took a hand-off for seven yards—the only time all afternoon he was stopped short of the end zone.

Next it was Lipko's turn and he picked up three more. Disbanding the Notre Dame originated formation, Gibbons elected to pass from the Cubs' brand of the split T, but Mike Kovach intercepted for Bridgeport.

The Porters lost more than they gained and after forced to punt, the Cubs were on the march again. Lipko took a pitchout, around his left end and ran 53 yards for a touchdown, but illegal use of the hands was detected and the play recalled.

Coming back on the same side, Lipko again went down the left sideline before being tackled at the 10. Keifrieder fought to the three, and Gillis charged over for his first six points. Ken Wensel's kick was no good for the conversion attempt.

AFTER the Porters were stalled again they kicked and this time, Gillis gathered it in on his own 40. Retreating for a while to gain position, he cut up field through a horde of tacklers and somehow managed to keep his feet. He suddenly wriggled free and was on his merry way for TD No. 2.

Lipko's plunged added the 13th point.

In the second quarter, the next time the Cubs gained possession, Gibbons on the first play threw a long pass to Dick Rhoads. The lanky Cub end caught the ball on the Bridgeport 15 and outtraced the last Dragon defender.

Gillis' third touchdown run started out as a pass, but he was unable to locate a receiver and decided to go into his scoring act. In the records the run goes down for 66 yards, but had added about another 40 while making up his mind which way to go.

Wensel kicked another extra point and at half time the Cubs led, 26-0.

In the third period on the second play after the Cubs gained possession again, Gibbons and Gillis combined on a 41-yard pass play for Dave's fourth touchdown.

Wensel again converted and the Cubs started talking about breaking the high point record of 29 recorded two weeks ago against Downingtown.

A deep double reverse that is form-fitted to Gillis' jet action, worked to perfection and the active right halfback raced around left end for TD No. 5, this one for 13 yards. It was his 11th of the season.

The all-important extra point was added by Lipko on a dive play.

The Porters, who dropped their fourth straight, were badly outmanned and out-weighted. The Cub defense headed by Wensel, Marsh, Sager, Bedek, Mike Lunn, John Osuch and Bob Weiser to mention a few, limited all but quarterback Joe DeFusco to minus yardage.

Chances Slight Of Hunting Season Being Extended

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the State Game Commission, today saw little hope for an extended hunting season as a result of the delayed opening forced by drought conditions.

"There is practically no chance that we would be able to extend the small game season past the scheduled closing Nov. 29," when the present emergency ends, Frye said.

Gov. John S. Fine yesterday postponed indefinitely the opening of the small game season set for tomorrow morning.

He explained that the action was necessary to protect parched woodlands of the State from the threat of fire.

Frye pointed out that there would not be time to complete the many acts required by State law in order to extend legal hunting dates.

"The commission would have to meet to set new dates and fix other matters and we would have to advertise in papers of every county of the State. In most likelihood the many technicalities could not be completed in time," Frye added.

FRYE EMPHASIZED that yesterday's proclamation by the governor makes all types of hunting and fishing on all property, including private preserves, illegal after 9 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 1.

The migratory waterfowl season which opened Oct. 20 will come to a halt at that hour.

In explaining the governor's proclamation which yesterday closed all counties to hunting and fishing, Frye said closing the State to all kinds of hunting means:

1. No field training of dogs.
2. No field trails.
3. No trapping of any kind.

(Temporarily suspends trapping season now in effect and postpones the opening of the mink trapping season Nov. 5.)

4. Hunting of all wild birds or animals is outlawed.
5. Hunting on regulated shoot-ground is not allowed until the emergency is declared past.

Evans Defeated

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 31.—Judd Brumley, a bespectacled, hotelman from Greenville, Tenn., knocked veteran Charles (Chick) Evans of Chicago, out of the North-South Seniors Invitation Golf tournament today, scoring a 3 and 2 a semi-finals victory.

During the first week of Fall into action.

Royersford Meets Once Beaten Yeadon Eleven at Home

Yeadon, unbeaten in four straight before the past weekend, visits once-beaten Royersford this afternoon as the Eagles face much more than a "breather" before next Saturday's telling tilt with Upper Perkiomen.

This one today could develop into more of a "puffer" should the visiting eleven find the form that froze up its first four foes in this initial meeting between the two schools. But the thing that strikes us about them is the way in which they lost their lone game.

Darby, unbeaten in five straight, conked them 27-2 last week after Yeadon put up a staunch fight in going after its fifth consecutive win also.

Before that, today's foe topped Nether-Providencia, 6-2; Springfield, 13-7; Sharon Hill, 7-6, and Marple-Newtown, 20-13.

Royersford has won three straight since its lone defeat of the year, capping the skein with a 40-6 win at Wilson the past week.

BOB MCNEELLY last night announced that his squad will be at full force again with the return of quarterback Lou Alexander after his recovery from the grippie.

Gary Grater, the area's leading point-maker with 11 touchdowns, Charley Miller and Carroll Swenson will team with Alexander in the "Ford" backfield. Along the line from end to end, it'll be the regular septet of Jake Troutwine, Al Wolfe, Tad Tyson, Nick Dinno-centi, Mark Horner, Bill Rogers and Bob Quinn—who scored three times against Wilson.

Hespeth Paces Room 110 to 43-29 Victory

Odie Hespeth pocketed 11 field goals and a single foul for 23 markers yesterday to lead Room 110 to a 43-29 win over 243 and the championship of the PHS Junior Intramural tourney yesterday at the senior high school.

Charley Gilliland's eight was next best for 110, which led, 11-6, 17-9 and 26-17 at the quarters.

Al Kelly and Len Levin, a pair of diminutive shotsmiths, split 18 points evenly for the losers.

Former Hill Players Fly With F & M

The Franklin and Marshall football team, with two former Hill school players on its squad is flying to Springfield, Mass., today to match its undefeated record against that of American International college.

The ex-local boys are Johnny Frantz and Sam Houck. John Frantz, formerly of Pottstown high, is also a member of the Diplomats.

squad but he will go along only as a spectator.

During the first week of Fall into action.

When Jack Bechtel cracks into the Berwyn line today, the Bulldogs will find it hard to believe that just one short week ago this Trojan halfback was carried off the field on a stretcher. He had injured his back, but not until he scored Pottstown's first TD. His ailment cleared up in a hurry and Jack is ready for double duty again today.

Hill School Shifts Backfield for Tilt At Peddie School This Afternoon

A couple of starting offensive backfield changes will go into effect this afternoon when the Hill school takes its grid forces to the Jersey confines of Peddie school.

In an attempt to give his attacking team more power, Coach Jack Riley has returned Duff Bigger and Dave Armstrong to the starting offensive alignment. In early games this pair had been opening on offense but recently they saw more action as defensive stalwarts.

Armstrong is a 185-pound full-back, who came to the fore in the later stages of the Hill's 20-7 win over Blair the past weekend. He will continue to man one of the end posts on defense to add to the already hefty defensive unit.

Bigger is the pass-throwing Texan who will reclaim the right halfback job. He was working at a defensive spot in the secondary in recent outings.

Ron Ference will retain his scrimmage, Nycum suffered a broken leg and now accompanies the team for spotter purposes. He was a halfback on the 1931 F&M team.

This is the first time the Diplomats ever traveled by air. They hold decisions over Johns Hopkins, Dickinson, Drexel and Albright.

Frantz and Houck share the left end position for F&M. On offense it is Frantz, and on defense Houck takes over.

All-Around Athlete

Ray Beck, rookie guard for the New York football Giants, was also a wrestler and shot-putter for Georgia Tech last season.

Trojans Need Win Over Berwyn on Franklin Field This Afternoon to Tie Phoenixville for C-M Lead

The make or break game in Pottstown's drive for the Ches-Mont league flag will go on at 2 o'clock at Franklin field this afternoon.

Berwyn will bring a highly-touted (5-1) eleven fresh from a 20-13 win over Coatesville. A victory here today will send the Bulldogs to the top of the C-M standings, while a Trojan win would result in a first-place tie for the locals and Phoenixville.

All week in practice the Blue and White players have been "loose." The narrow 13-12 squeak with last-place West Chester the past Saturday has not dampened the Trojans' spirit.

Defensive shifts and a perked up offense may prove to be the winning tonic needed by the Trojans in the pennant drive.

No offensive lineup changes are anticipated by Coach Heeb Meyers as his club goes after its fourth win. The backfield of Jim Kirk, 63 Jack Bechtel, Flip Smoyer and 76 Howie Bedell will get the opening 70 call.

Bedell was a ball of fire in practice this week as he won back his starting job from Carl Stahl. Bechtel has shaken off the back injury that floored him in the West Chester game and will shift to his left end job on defense.

The mighty mites of the backfield, Kirk and Smoyer, continue to play their steady game. Kirk's 17 for 27 passing average poses a real short aerial threat and if Stahl can begin to connect with his long tries the Trojans' overhead game could become a scoring menace.

Behind Smoyer and Bechtel will be Al Bodolus, regular secondary defender man and Bill Kerr, whose shoulder injuries are no longer hindering him.

Leading the running game will be ace guard and blocker Bob Sutton. Little Bill Garrow and co-captain Row Downie, guard and tackle respectively are the other key offensive operators who have been helping the Trojans build up a huge ground advantage on all opponents.

Offensive ends will be Mitt Wensel and Steve Chernesky, both big and brawny and slated for two-way duty at tackle and linebacking jobs.

Either Ray Donnelly or Hal Rosenberger will operate at the other offensive tackle, and Jack Babel, a real terror on downfield blocking, will be the center.

THE BIG defensive shift involves moving Stahl to the deep backfield spot and sending Chernesky in behind the line. Stahl, general handy man of the Trojans, is alert, can move in a hurry and is a seasoned performer. Chernesky backed up the line the past year and with his size should add to the pass defense.

Donnelly and Paul Stofko also move into the backfield on defense, and Don Monroe, at end, and Bill Fisher at guard are the other stylin' specialists. Sutton, and Downie will see duty practically the entire game, both being strong enough for the long stretch.

Berwyn comes back to Pottstown after man-handling the Trojans on their home grounds last year, 37-14. Their backfield headed by Bobby Lee, Bob Hughes, Eric Hammond and Don Edwards rates with the best in the league.

The line boasts of a 281-pound tackle, Bill Von Plonski, and a talented pass-catching end, Chet Knight.

Earlier this season he had four at Boyertown, which would indicate he enjoys running them up against the Perk league teams.

One bright spot in the Colts' outlook is the return of Bill Yeagle, the speedy halfback missed much the Royersford game because of a nose injury that is now healed. He ran for 71 yards in the Norco game, for one of his team's two touchdowns.

FRAN McMANUS, Gerry Hebel, finger and captain Don Harrington, will probably round out the backfield for Coach Hackman.

In the line it will probably be Weigner and Hales, ends; Heidel and Reiff, tackles; Godshall and Brown, guards; and Litka, center.

Chattanooga Wins Over Louisville

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The University of Chattanooga loosed a flood of fleet backs against Louisville tonight and swamped the Cardinals, 47-14.

The Moccasins stopped the Cards' brilliant passer, Johnny Unitas, in the air in the first half while building up a 21-0 lead. One TD came on a blocked kick by end Bill Wilkerson.

Top Dodger Winner

The 1941 Dodgers won more games than any other team in Dodger history. That club, managed by Leo Durocher, won 100 games.

Boyertown Wins

The correct score of the Boyertown Junior High game at the Hill school Thursday afternoon was 26-0 in favor of Boyertown. The Mercury erroneously had the score in reverse in its Friday morning story.

Trying to break the jinx of the Jersey team for Coach Bob Morgan will be: Andrews and DSchryver, wings; Lewis and Dease, insides; Ray Beck, center forward; Pressinger, Caine, Valentine, half backs; Kirby, Doherty, fullbacks, and Holbrook, goalie.

POTTSTOWN CITIZENS-VOTE ON NOV. 4 TO SAVE MONEY BY BUILDING NEW STREETS

The STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND ISSUE IS AN ECONOMY MEASURE, Designed to Benefit EVERY Property Owner and EVERY Tax Payer!

HERE'S HOW You Will Save By Borrowing Enough To Complete the Street Program in One Operation!

1. Maintenance, temporary surfacing and patch work repairs of unfinished and depleted streets averages $20,000 to $26,000 annually. The unfortunate result is temporary, patched, unfinished streets. You never get overall new streets because the budget is insufficient and construction too costly to complete the entire job.
2. The bond issue will permanently pave approximately 13 miles of unfinished streets, thus eliminating costly annual repairs and avoiding budget appropriations for new streets, thereby effecting an estimated annual saving of $25,000 to $38,000.
3. The annual estimated cost to the borough of the bond issue is $21,000, resulting in an annual saving to every taxpayer of $4,000 to $14,000 (difference between present maintenance and new street expense—$25,000 to $38,000—and cost of bond issue $21,000).
4. In addition, everybody will enjoy the convenience of new streets.

We Have Reached the Point Where Recurring Repairs Are More Costly Than Street Construction. We Can Save by Building New Streets, But Economy Dictates That It Be Done in One Operation.

A VOTE FOR THE STREET BOND ISSUE IS A VOTE FOR PROGRESS AND ECONOMY

Shillington Downs Bears, 13-0, at Night

By GARY TROLLINGER

Two clubs with scoring punches comparable to that of two-proof corn liquor hauled it out last night at Albright Stadium with Shillington downing Boyertown, 13-0, under the lights of the northeast Reading grid works.

The Speedboys (who limped more than they sped) saluted away the verdict by virtue of a pair of first half touchdowns on long drives of 51 and 72 yards apiece. Bill Conner scored the first one on a 12 yard off guard romp in the first period and Bill Steffy, favoring an injured leg, hit Willie Ramsey just before the end of the second half.

Boyertown could go no farther than the Shillington 47 in the first half and improved on that only slightly in the second, getting down to the 30 once and the 23 on another occasion. Shillington joined the impotent association following the cooling-off period, getting to the Bear 47 in the third period and to the 30 in the final stanza.

Boyertown had its troubles moving the leather all evening. The insertion of Junior Scatter Bill Reagan didn't help out any and Lignelli's passing was hampered by insufficient time on many occasions and blanketed receivers on others.

Shillington stopgapped four Bear drives by hauling down Lignelli heaves before they could find their way into white-covered arms.

In the first half, Shillington looked as if it were going someplace. It rolled up the two TD's in rather orderly fashion, relying largely on some shrewd heaving by Conner and Steffy, and getting 11 first downs.

IN THE FINAL two stanzas, however, the Speedies came on like anemids, completing one pass and getting four first downs. The bullying Conner had things pretty much his own way in the huddle, too, over that time, carrying 14 times and gaining 39 yards net.

The hosts had the ball for all but four plays in the first period as the Speedies recovered a fumbled punt and later marched for their first score.

Lignelli's fourth-down punt midway through the period rolled dead on the Shillington 49. Conner's reverse run that went all but a few yards of the TD distance was called back on an offside penalty, but the Speedies got their five yards back on a counter penalty on the next play.

Following an incomplete pass, Steffy made his first appearance of the evening and hit Bruce Daniels in the left flat for a gain that carried the hosts from their own 46 to the foe 33.

Conner's eight-yard smash off guard and 11 yarder to the 15 gave the Shills another first down. He then hit guard three more times in succession, getting three, nothing and 12 to score standing up. The scoring play was a straight ahead single wing power play where the Speedies' fullback broke through the line and then cut right, putting on a burst of speed that carried him by the remaining two Bear defenders. Jack Spatz' placement attempt was to the left and low.

THE OTHER touchdown producing move came at relatively the same time in the second period. Lignelli's kick after Boyertown had run up a first down and then stalled out was returned by Dick Mohler from the Shill 29 to the 44. But a 15 yard clipping penalty set the hosts back to their 28.

Charley Delong whisked up 19 strides in a wide left end sweep and Mohler got five more on a buck lateral around the opposite flank and the Speedies were boomed 15 yards on a Bear personal foul, carrying them to the B-town 34.

Conner lost a couple but worked the club's patented spinner-pass play to co-captain and end Bill Heebner for 15 yards and a first on the 21.

The Shill bucking mainstay lost on first down this time, but passing redeemed the yardage plus dividends on second down again, with Mohler passing to Ramsey on the 18 and latter bulging to the 13. A double reverse with Delong on the business end around left end got the Speedies down to the 12 and Conner put his club in position, barging five yards over the middle to the eight.

HE LEFT limping after that play, but Steffy pitched to Ramsey, the right end, for the score on the next play. Spatz converted this time.

Boyertown recovered its second half kickoff on the foe 30 when Mohler bobbled, but Bruce Coldren's interception on third down mixed that threat.

Later in the period, Shillington made a short march—more of a hike—from its 37 to the Bear 47 with Steffy's leg-dragging 13 yard run sparking the move. That too sapped off on fourth down, with the hosts punting downfield to Charley Fronheiser on the 15. He got it out to the 28.

Frank Johnson's interception early in the final period stopped another Bear drive after it was one first down out on the 30. After Shillington punted out, the Bears made their deepest sustained move of the day getting from the Shillington 48 to the 23 before Johnson intercepted again on his own five and running back out to the 33 to get his team out of the hole.

Shillington got close again just before the end of the game, with Steffy's pass to Coldren advancing it to the Bear 34 before Erb made his second interception to save the Bears further embarrassment.

Erb also played a stickout defensive game against the Speedies' land moves and tossed in a 15-yard run on the game's final play.

The win for Shillington stopped a four game losing streak and gave them a 2-4 mark for the year, leaving them all even in four games against Perkiomen-Schuylkill league opposition. It also marked the fifth straight year without defeat for the Speedies in their series with the Bears.

Boyertown has now won one out of five, dropped two in a row, and lost three out of three to Berks county opponents.

Penn Attempts to Break State Jinx As Nittany Lions Come to Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31 (AP)—Unbeaten, twice tied Penn sends its good defense, poor offense football team against once beaten Penn State tomorrow hoping to give Coach George Munger his first win over the Nittany Lions.

The intrastate rivals have met four times since Munger became Penn coach in 1937 with State on the long end three times and one game ending in a stalemate. Penn holds the overall edge in the series, winning 24, losing 12 and tying four. The two rivals first met in 1890.

The last time Penn boasted of a victory over State was in 1936, when present athletic director Franny Murray helped fashion a 19 to 12 win for the Red and Blue. So far this year, Penn has tied Notre Dame and Navy and won over Dartmouth, Princeton and Columbia. Munger's team has sparked on defense but has shown a definite

This pug puppy, Greenly's Danny Boy, is moving along the dog show trail at a rapid clip and promises to rank among the all-time pug greats barring injury or incident. His owners, Miss Hattie Lewis, (left) and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Beideman, are from Norristown. Fred Greenly, Pottstown breeder and trainer, stands behind his protégé who he raised from birth more than six months ago before selling him to the Norristown women. At the right is the judge, Mrs. Henrietta B. Kerner, who proclaimed Danny Boy the best of breed in the recent Progressive Dog show in Brooklyn, N. Y. It was a show solely for the toy group and this puppy ranked fourth in show. Having already gained nine points in only three shows toward his championship, the little pug has attracted nation-wide attention in dog circles during the past two weeks. Greenly handled the dog at the Brooklyn event.

YOUNG JOEY looked to his corner for help and gazed with a vacant stare at ringsiders as the punches continued to flow.

Bratton dropped the dazed Miceli with a right hand a few seconds before the bell. He was so shaken up that he forgot to take a count and bounced right up at three in bad condition. The bell rang before the referee could count off the compulsory eight count.

There was no question about the ending. Bratton came out with a righthand punch and kept pitching. After Kessler stepped in to save Miceli from further punishment, the beaten boy made a gesture of despair as he walked with hands down to his corner.

Villanova Fights Back to Tie Parris Island, 20-20

VILLANOVA, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Rallying behind their driving fullback, Capt. Bob Haner, Villanova college preserved its unbeaten record tonight by scoring three times in the final half for a 20 to 20 tie with the rugged Parris Island Marines.

Haner, a 200-pounder who hit the line with real power, and also has amazing speed in the open, counted all of the Villanova points.

Johnny Bratton Halts Miceli in 8th

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—With blood streaming from his left eye, Johnny Bratton overpowered GI Joe Miceli in a sizzling welter

brav tonight to score a technical knockout in 18 seconds of the eighth round at Madison Square Garden.

Bratton weighed 148, Miceli 146.

Turning the full stream of his fiery attack on the bewildered Miceli, who was floored for eight minutes of play, completely overin the first round and seven in the seventh. Bratton forced Referee Harry Kessler to intervene in the eighth as he rained punishment on the 23-year-old New Yorker, home on an Army furlough.

Bratton, the ex-NBA welter from Chicago, took charge in the early rounds but ran into a heavy hail of Miceli's left handed punches from the third through the sixth.

Opening the throttle wide in the seventh he drove Miceli into full retreat from a merciless barrage.

But the fired-up Villanova team, behind 14-0 at one point and a little later trailing 20-6, started rolling on Haner's power drives and

Sam Vacanti, the Parris Island quarterback, scored the first touchdown from the one-yard line and kicked the first two extra points. Bill Mixon tied the second touchdown on a four-yard drive, and Leo Elter scored the third from the two-yard line where the Marines had been carried by a pass from Vacanti to Bill Hayes.

Kentucky Beats Miami, 29-0;

Meilinger Stars

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 31 (AP)—Kentucky's great pass-catching end, 212-pound Steve Meilinger, moved into the quarterback role for the first time in a brilliant football career tonight to lead the Wildcats to a smashing 29-0 victory over Miami's favored Hurricanes.

Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant surprised by sending his powerful and talented wingman into the field general's position and the strategy paid off beyond his wildest dreams.

After 15 minutes of careful sparring on a water-logged field, Meilinger broke the game open in the second. He quarterbacked the Wildcats, seven-point underdogs, to their first score, then moved into his familiar left end post to gobble a touchdown pass that gave Kentucky a 13-0 halftime lead.

These quick thrusts so demoralized the Hurricanes that Kentucky had a pushover in the second half.

The Wildcats roared to a third touchdown in the third period, with Dick Shatto slamming eight yards for the score, and added three points on a field goal by Bob Bassitt.

EIGHT BUILDINGS ARE BURNED IN PRISON RIOTING

Million Dollar Rebellion
At Columbus Ends;
2000 in Revolt

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31 (AP)—The million-dollar Halloween rebellion that sent eight buildings at century-old Ohio penitentiary up in flames virtually ended tonight.

All but a handful of 2000 rioting convicts returned to their cells in the burned and battered prison at 10:30 p. m. (Pottstown time)—six hours after the "bad food" uprising started.

One man—State Highway Patrolman R. W. Lawrence—was hurt. He was given a minor bullet wound in the head by another guard who thought he was an escaping convict.

Exact estimates of property damage weren't available, but prison officials said the damage would run "upwards to a million dollars." The eight burned buildings were stone or brick with wooden interiors. Many were aged, dating back to the early days of the century.

THE MEN returned ahead of a scheduled big push by 600 Ohio National Guardsmen.

The Guardsmen were mobilizing outside the prison when a dozen die-hard prisoners armed with knives gave up and allowed their fellow inmates to return to the cellblocks.

Maury Koblenz, assistant commissioner of corrections, said 100 prisoners still milled about the prison courtyard. But, they weren't offering any particular resistance to orders.

National Guardsmen were held outside in readiness at the first sign of trouble.

Koblenz said reports that three convicts were shot during the height of the uprising in the century-old prison were false.

"No convicts were shot," he said. "No convicts were shot," he said.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis told newsmen that no guard had been held hostage.

Both stories gained official credence during the excitement of the riot.

Alvis explained that most of the prisoners who voluntarily had returned to their cells had been evacuated, while cell blocks G and H were cleared of some 40 of the rioters, armed with clubs.

The 600 die-hards were kept from returning to their cells by 25 fanatical convicts, armed with knives.

Approximately one-eighth of the freight revenues of the American railroads is derived from bituminous coal traffic.

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

From drifter to diamond king seems impossible in the span of a few short years, but let us tell you the true story of a man who was and became just that.

This man was the son of an English jeweler. He just wouldn't settle down to work in his father's store, even though his entire family pleaded with him to do so. Instead, he preferred to travel around the world, never settling anywhere very long. During that period he was the rolling stone that never gathered any moss.

At last his travels took him to the Dark Continent of Africa. There, he opened a crude gambling hall and saloon near the newly-found South African diamond mines. You can closely picture his sort of establishment if you will visualize the saloons in the average western show on your television. He was a man who carried two pistols on his belt and knew how to use them.

At that time, individual miners were the sole owners of the diamond pipes, each having a small 15 foot by 15 foot claim. As each miner went broke or became discouraged, our friend would buy his claim until, at last this wayward traveler became sole owner of the huge Kimberly mine. Later, he obtained control of other mines until he finally controlled all mines in English South Africa.

Because of his financial power and wisdom, he was made Premier of South Africa by the King of England. A fine title for a man who was just a wandering adventurer a few short years before. This man's name was Cecil Rhodes, called by many the Father of Africa.

Now, you certainly couldn't call us drifters, then, on the other hand, you couldn't call us diamond kings either. But we do have a fine collection of diamonds from South Africa and mined by Cecil Rhodes' company. So if you are looking for a fine diamond this Christmas, stop in to see us. We are diamond merchants by birth and are schooled extensively in the science of the diamond.

See you next Saturday.

Suggestions Made to End Crashes

who was at the scene of Tuesday's crash.

He said an acetylene torch should be owned by a fire company to cut away twisted metal so that persons trapped in wreckage could be freed quickly. He cited the fact that the Tuesday crash victim died before a torch could be found. The nearest fire company having one is in Mt. Penn.

Yerger noted that such a torch would cost only a few hundred dollars.

ONE OF THE many Penn. Village residents living within a few dozen yards of the speedway, Mrs. Wayne Dry, 451 Buttonwood street, declared:

"In my opinion, it's terrible. I have three children, and I'm afraid even to let them go out across the street. Those drivers out there just don't care."

She said "reckless driving" was the basic cause, and pointed out there was no traffic light anywhere west of Manatany street. "They should have a stop light around here somewhere," she asserted.

One big reason a stop light might be useful at Penn. Village, she said, is that large numbers of residents, including small children, have to cross to the south side of the highway to get the buses taking them to Pottstown, particularly on Saturday afternoon.

Sullivan "Sam" Gulotta who lives on West High street and owns Sam's Fruit market, which is close to Thursday's accident site, declared:

"There's nothing wrong with the highway. There's something wrong with the drivers. . . . It seems that once they pass that bridge (carrying the Colebrookdale junction railroad tracks over West High street, near Manatany street), they can go as fast as they want."

"Here sometimes at 8 a.m. night or so, I look out and—why, 80-90 miles an hour is nothing!" He said he frequently has seen youthful drivers racing their cars alongside a car other.

"Even some of the trucks go 70," he added.

Gulotta also called for enforcement of the 35-mile speed limit. "Down South," he said, "they got the speed-limit signs and they got men behind 'em. Here we got the signs but nothing to back them up with."

He mentioned that West Pottstown police had made a drive against speeders the past year, but then relinquished it in the face of criticism from people who thought they were being persecuted when nabbed for breaking the law.

A MESSAGE for AMERICANS from General Eisenhower

ONCE before I had the honor and duty of leading a crusade for human freedom and dignity—in Europe during World War II.

That crusade was won not by Generals and Admirals but by the blood and effort of American G.I.'s and all the other forces fighting for freedom. Now in 1952 a different call to duty has honored me—as Republican nominee for President of the United States.

This time the effort is civilian—not military. But again, the crusade will be won not by me nor by the political leaders, but by everyday Americans who value their National heritage and are willing to go to the polls and vote to protect it.

THIS IS A CRUSADE TO:

- ★ Sweep Out of Government the corruption and the scandal which have brought us dishonor at home and disrespect abroad.
- ★ Banish the Subversives and incompetents who have crucified both good public service and good public servants.
- ★ Build a Strong Economy not based on war.
- ★ Save Our Great, Free Nation from the reckless policies which are leading America down the road to bankruptcy—Socialism—and possibly even World War III.

'AMERICA NEEDS YOU . . . in this Civilian Crusade. I hope that you, too, believe the time has come for a complete change in our National leadership—a change which will restore courage, integrity and faith in American Government.

I INVITE YOUR SUPPORT NOVEMBER 4th.

Dwight D. Eisenhower
